

TDP is a perennial highlight of the Bay Area ride calendar, offering a variety of routes to suit everyone from kids (1 to 3 miles) and first time riders (20-mile) to serious cyclists (31 / 56 / 63-mile options). Based in scenic Coyote Point Park along the bay in San Mateo, it's easy to hangout after the ride with a picnic lunch, listening to live music and enjoying family activities, including free admission to the CuriOdyssey Environmental Education Center. Proceeds benefit San Mateo County Parks Bicycle Sunday.
